Shot to hide dishonour

↑ n Additional Chief Secretary (ACS) whose video Awith a woman went viral has reached an understanding with her to hush up his ignominy. Immediately after the incident, he was shifted from the important department he was heading then. The ACS, too, went on leave. For the ACS, the problem was that, the woman, whom he had been seen with, threatened to lodge an FIR against him. The ACS was trying to find out a way to get rid of the dishonour. The ACS has reached a compro mise with the woman following mediation by some people. After that, the woman has decided to keep off from taking action against him. Behind the lady, who was found with the ACS, there was another woman of ill repute. She is associated with a political party for a long time and hatched a conspiracy to hem the ACS in. Some other people were also behind that scheme.

Proving loyalty

A senior IAS officer is out to attest his loyalty to the government. To get an important position, he is working his socks off to please the higher-ups in the government. He wants to show that he has nothing to do with the BJP leaders any more. Close as he has been to the RSS, he is making dossiers against the organisation The Sahib has been given an important project. Never theless, while working on the project, he is making ways for action against the Sangh. As he is at home with law, he may cause trouble to them. The way the officer has changed his tune with the change of government has startled many senior leaders of the RSS. The officer's name has been proposed for posting to some important departments, but certain unknown reasons have driven those positions further than his reach. The officer has impressed a powerful minister who is trying to get him posted to a significant department.

Protest leave

▲ secretary-level IAS officer has gone on leave to vent $m{m{\Lambda}}$ his spleen at the government for his posting to a department that is outside his choice. The department he has been posted to is considered important, but he does not want to work there. There are whispers in the corri dors of power that he was also pulling out all the stops to get out of the department. As his efforts fell through he took leave. There are speculations among officers in the department over the reasons for his going on leave The employees of the department have become unhappy after the joining of another officer in place of the earlier one. As this officer was previously posted to the department, employees are acquainted with his style of functioning. This apart, the officer has the charge of another department, so it is likely that, he will soon be shifted from there. The department has hogged the lime light, though for some wrong reasons. For this depart ment's malfunctioning, the government, too, has faced criticism. Ergo, the squabbling among officials may cause further harm to the department.

Fair weather friend

The links of an IAS officer with some powerful Con-■ gress leaders have startled many a bureaucrat in the state. The officer was close to the former chief minister before the change of government. When the new gov ernment came to power, it was thought that the officer would lose his importance. After the officer was shifted from an important position, it was believed that, he would never return to the mainstream of administration. Contrary to that, immediately after his shifting, the officer was posted to an important department. Now, he is heading a more important department than the one he was previously doing. Nobody has understood the reason behind his posting to such an important department. There are whispers that the officer has been close to a powerful Congress leader who is now backing him. Besides that, the links, which he has developed with powerful people during his tenure as head of different departments, have become useful for him. The officer has been shifted to an area from where comes a power ful Congress leader. For getting his posting there, the officer has wooed two factions of the Congress. But it may cause trouble to him in coming days.

Lure of lucre

The story of lucre, made from illegal mining and L shared between a collector and an SP, has gone to town. The SP would previously purloin the money and only give a morsel of it to the collector. When the collector had begun to throw a spanner in the work of the SP both of them began to share the lucre with each other. About the SP it is said that he makes Rs 5 crore every month from illegal mining. The collector also gets his share. The SP recently got a four-km road repaired through a town inspector for smooth movements of the vehicles carrying illegally mined sand in the rainy season. Besides that, he keeps leaders of all political parties in good humour. He has accommodated the leaders of the party that ruled the state earlier. Now, he has asked the sand mafia to gratify the powerful people every month. The SP knows how to shut one's mouth.

Spooky room

 ${f F}$ ew officers can work from a room in the new building at Mantralaya. During the past eight months, nameplates of at least six officers have been put on its door. Within a few days of their shifting to the room they had to go to other departments. Afterwards, those who occupied the room were retired. An Additional Chief Secretary (ACS) shifted to the room was transferred and began to sit in another room. On finding it vacant, when a secretary-level officer began to work from there, other officers were green with envy. He was then asked to vacate the room. The officer, who got the room allotted to his name after that, was seen with a woman in a video that went viral. He, too, was transferred. Now, the room has been allotted to another officer. People in the corridors of power, however, think that, this officer, too, may soon be shifted. The officer, sitting in the room, also thinks that, he may be shifted from the department he is working for.

Three members of family arrested for fraud of lakhs in Gwalior

They were hiding in rented accommodation in Lasudia area without informing police

OUR STAFF REPORTER

Three members including two women of a family, who were absconding in connection with fraud of lakhs of rupees for last few years, were arrested by the police from their rented accommodation in Lasudia area on Sunday.

Additional Superintendent of Police Shailendra Singh Chouhan said that the accused identified as Manoi Sharma (52), wife Varsha (48), daughter Sakshi (28) and son Prafull were booked for fraud with many people in Gwalior and were on the run since from 2011.

Acting on a tip off police nabbed them from Dream City Colony on Sunday. They were staying here in the rented house for two months in order to evade

Police said that the accused have developed a website named "India future science research institute". They attract the people towards their website. The accused makes people to invest money in Metal and Mineral companies by predicting a profit in their horoscope. She also made people to invest lakhs of rupees in Sandalwood oil and Kesar business. The accused collected money from the people by suggesting them their own scammed companies and made them deposit money

ASP Chouhan added that the main accused Manoj Sharma and others will be

Digvijaya running govt from behind the curtain, claims Kamal Nath minister

OUR STAFF REPORTER BHOPAL

In a statement which might not go down well with the party organisation, forest minister Umang Singhar on Sunday said Digvijaya Singh was running the government from behind the curtain and the fact is known to everybody including Congress workers.The minister has said on record what others of his ilk hesitated to say till

'Digvijaya Singh is running the government from behind the curtain and everybody knows this fact including the Congress workers. Does he need to write letter to get his work done,' said Singhar responding to media queries on letter that Digvijaya had sent to ministers recently. Forest minister was visiting his constituency on Sunday.

and former chief minister Digvijaya Singh's letter that he had written to all ministers had recently gone viral on social media platforms. Singh has written that he had earlier written letter to ministers for transfers and some other works. None of the ministers have responded to the letter. He asked the ministers, through his letter, to inform him about status of his work done or not done.

Digvijay Singh also sought time from ministers to know status of works recommended by him. Forest minister Singhar had responded in the same context.

After conducting exercise for three months and several rounds of online admissions large number of seats still remain vacant in colleges and universities. The higher education department has now opened the admissions and has extended date to fill the remaining seats.

Now in open round of admissions, applicants can apply for admission from 3-12 September in any college private or government. The colleges can now give admissions and verify the documents by themselves. Applicants can choose college of their choice and apply directly. This year total admissions have reached 4.40 lakh. Total number of admissions in Undergraduate courses is 3.53 lakh while in Postgraduate courses it was 82,298.

Last year higher education department had registered total 5.04 lakh admissions including 4.11 lakh admissions in undergraduate courses and 90,000 admissions in postgraduate courses. Experts believe that the choice of students has shifted from traditional courses to vocational and technical courses, therefore the drop in number of admissions.
