Scindia rendered irrelevant in state in just 10 months WEAKENED FURTHER BY JHABUA BYPOLL OUTCOME

Followers silent Focus on becoming MP PCC

NITENDRA SHARMA BHOPAL

Ex-MP Jyotiraditya Scindia, who played a key role during assembly poll campaigning in the state for the party, has become irrelevant in the state in just ten months.

Scindia has been sidelined from any big function in the state including state's Foundation Day. Scindia and Kamal Nath, after Congress coming to power, have not shared any dais together in any function.

Ex-CM Digvijaya Singh and Nath appear together in some function every week. Scindia and Digvijaya both lost Lok Sabha elections but Digvijaya has not lost his clout in state's politics.

Scindia's position has weakened further after the results of Jhabua bypolls. Scindia, despite being present in the state, did not go to Jhabua for election campaigning in support of Congress candidate Kantilal Bhuria. Bhuria's win has diminished the clout of Scindia.

Now Scindia is focusing on becoming state president as he is being sidelined in state politics. Scindia wants to become a new power centre in the state but Bhuria's win may come as an obstacle in fulfilling of his wish. Sources in Congress maintain that Privanka backing Gandhi is Scindia's appointment as PCC chief. Earlier, his appointment was put on hold following protests of other leaders. Congress state in charge Deepak Babaria and Nath have discussed on appointment of new PCC chief but the impact of Scindia would be visible in the coming time.

The followers of Scindia are also silent these days with Scindia losing his standing. Only the ministers namely Imarti Devi and Pradhyumna Singh Tomar speak openly in support of Scindia. Other ministers, who are also followers of Scindia, namely Govind Singh Rajput, Tulsi Prabhuram Silawat. Chaudhary and Mahendra Singh Sisodia have found out a middle way. These leaders are with Scindia but they are also pacifying Nath and Digvijaya.

Egg is vegetarian, I also eat it: Imarti Devi

OUR STAFF REPORTER BHOPAL

The idea of providing egg to children in Anganwadis by department of woman and child development (WCD) is catching controversy. WCD minister, Imarti Devi on Thursday said that egg does not come under non-vegetarian food. She said egg is vegetarian food and she also eats it.

lmarti Devi The minister said egg makes pregnant mothers deliver healthy baby and nourishment to malnourished children. She said the matter is being consulted with the doctors and their suggestion would be implemented. She said BJP wants children to remain mal-nourished while the Congress wants to make children well nourished. Madhya Pradesh comes under those states where malnutrition is prevalent highly in chil> dren. This has made the WCD department planning to supply egg in 23,000 Anganwadis in 89 tribal blocks of the state. On the other hand, former Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan has objected to providing egg in Anganwadis. He said there are other options to prevent children from malnourishment and they should be explored. He added that such a proposal was also put up during his government but it was rejected considering public aspirations.

GOPAL BHARGAVA'S STATEMENT SHOWS HE HAS LOST HIS MENTAL BALANCE: OZA

he statement of leader of opposition Gopal Bhargava 'by eating egg children may turned into man-eater' shows that the leader had lost his mental balance, said the Congress media state president Sobha Oza, here on Thursday. The state government is planning to distribute eggs in the Anganwadies, to contest against the malnutrition in the children of the state. The BIP leaders are opposing the decision. She asked "First the BJP should make it clear that if the eggs being distributed by BJP ruled states like Uttrakhand, Jharkhand, Assam and in Karnataka are turning the children there into man-eater and if the distribution starts in the state MP, how would it be any different."

Dozen students may miss nursing exam starting today

Eligibility goof-up

OUR STAFF REPORTER Indore

Nearly a dozen students of BSc nursing are likely to miss exam starting on Friday due to eligibility goof-up by Devi Ahilya Vishwavidyalaya (DAVV).

Seeking relief, the aggrieved students on Thursday reached DAVV and expressed their annoyance over the issue. But as the students are now currently enrolled with Madhya Pradesh Medical Science University (MPMSU) in Jabalpur, DAVV could do little to provide any relief to them.

BSc nursing colleges in Indore division were previously affiliated to the DAVV. But been issued admit card for second year.

"On enquiry in MPMSU, we came to know that admit cards were made as per the eligibility sent by the DAVV," the students told exam controller Asheesh Tiwari.

Asheesh told students that the colleges were required to tell in which year their students are to MPMSU. "But we had to do that on behalf of the colleges. We had sought year-wise details of students from the colleges but they did not respond. We sent whatever data was available with us," Tiwari told students shifting the onus on to their colleges.

However, he still spoke to his counterpart in MPMSU seeking solution to the problem. DAVV vice chancellor Prof Renu Jain too spoke to the MPMSU over the issue. Tiwari stated that they would coordinate with MPMSU officials and ensure that the students are not at the receiving end of the goof-up. If the students missed the exam starting on Friday, DAVV may request MPMSU

H1N1 deaths: Maha sees 9% rise DEADLY VIRUS CLAIMS 239 LIVES; 2,300 PEOPLE TEST POSITIVE FOR DISEASE

SWAPNIL MISHRA Mumbai

Swine flu deaths across the state have witnessed a 9% increase. According to the statistics provided by the state surveillance department, H1N1 death toll has risen to 239 and as many as 2,300 people have tested positive for H1N1 so far this year.

"There has been a 9% increase in the swine flu fatality rate this year as compared to 216 swine flu deaths recorded during the same period last year," said a senior health official. The maximum number of deaths occurred in Pune, which recorded 52 fatalities followed by Nagpur (44), Nashik (39), Mumbai (30) and Kolhapur (22). The highest number of H1N1 cases were reported in Mumbai with 642 followed by Nagpur (375), Nashik (328), Pune (173) and Thane district (129).

"Some of the H1N1 casualties reported this month had actually occurred last month. But they were reported to the state's centralised system in October," a state health official said.

Over the last decade, with 33,284 patients testing positive for the disease, Maharashtra recorded most number of H1N1 cases in the country, with the highest number of fatalities at 3,637.

Experts said the swine flu virus transmission was likely to rise further as persistent rainfall led to drop in temperature, providing a conducive atmosphere for the virus to grow and spread.

"Deaths in swine flu usually occur in high-risk patients with other underlying medical conditions, including diabetes, hypertension, obesity, respiratory ailments and those who are immune-compromised," said a doctor from KEM hospital.

Senior doctors said to cope up with the disease burden and to reduce mortality, timely treatment and diagnosis is the need of the hour.

"If patients keep an eye on the symptoms and approach doctors for quick diagnosis, we will be able to control the cases," said Dr Om Srivastava, infectious diseases department head at Jaslok Hospital.

"Severe lower respiratory tract infections with breathing difficulty leading to respiratory failure and superadded bacterial pneumonias in swine flu are two major causes of mortality. Both are commonly seen in people with underlying chronic cardio respiratory diseases. Rarely, swine flu can affect central nervous system or other organ system of body adding to mortality," said Dr Limaye, discussing the burden of mortality in swine flu.

Mumbai

Observing that loss of human life cannot be measured only in terms of loss of earning capacity alone, the Bombay High Court (HC) recently enhanced the pecuniary compensation to be given to a family which lost their 10-year-old daughter. The HC accordingly directed the Maharashtra State Road Transport Corporation, (MSRTC) to pay Rs2.29 lakh to the family.

A bench of Justice Anuja Prabhudesai was seized with a plea by Devappa Maskar challenging the orders of the motor vehicles' claims tribunal, which had fixed the monetary compensation to Rs51,000.

Maskar urged the bench to enhance the compensation to Rs1,00,000, claiming he was 'shattered' by the loss of his daughter, who died in an accident while travelling on an MSRTC's bus.

The MSRTC, on the other hand, argued that the amount fixed by the tribunal was just and fair as the deceased was a child and not an earning member of the family.

Having heard the contentions, Justice Prabhudesai said. "It is well known that in case of children there is no clear proof of pecuniary loss resulting from accidental death. Nevertheless, want of proof of pecuniary loss would not lead to an inference, much less a conclusion, that no pecuniary loss accrues due to their death."

Justice Prabhudesai, referring to some rulings of the apex court, further said, "Human life cannot be measured only in terms of loss of earning or monetary losses alone. There are emotional attachments involved and the loss of a child can have a devastating effect on the family which can be easily visualised and understood."

The bench noted, the tribunal awarded a lump sum compensation without considering the fact that the deceased, though a student, had potential to earn income. "In my considered view, the compensation awarded by the tribunal is not just and reasonable and hence it is necessary to compute the compensation on the basis of the binding principle and formula laid down by the Supreme Court," Justice Prabhudesai said.

The court further noted Maskar's daughter was a student. "The mental shock and trauma suffered by the Maskar family can only be understood and visualised. No amount of compensation can alleviate the intensity of pain and suffering or restore their devastated lives. But all the same, the court can only try to calculate the incalculable and endeavour to compensate them to the extent of payment of money," Justice Prabhudesai observed.

The bench, after applying all the formulas and parameters, concluded that the Maskar family was entitled for total compensation of Rs2,29,300 with a 7.5% interest rate.

and nabbed after a video went viral, in which he and some other persons could be seen killing the lizard, a statement issued by Thane divisional forest office said.

"Based on the video, a probe was launched and Rathod was held from his residence in CBD Belapur in Navi Mumbai.

During his interrogation, the accused told the officials that he and his two friends killed the monitor lizard, which they had found near his house," it added.

Later, they cut the lizard using a knife with the intention of cooking it for consumption, the statement said.

A case was registered against Rathod under the Wildlife (Protection) Act. He was produced before a local court on Thursday, which remanded him in the custody of forest department till November 2.

Waterproof asphalt is a solution for potholes: MSRDC

BMC campaign: Show a pothole, get ₹500

SWEETY ADIMULAM Mumba

After drawing flak for pothole-ridden roads, the authorities are coming up with different ways to tackle the issue. The Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) has started an innovative campaign asking citizens to show a 3-inch pothole and get Rs500, while the Maharashtra State Road Development Corporation (MSRDC) has found waterproof asphalt to overcome potholes menace on its roads and flyovers.

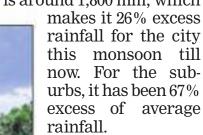

The authority following successful experimentation of laying of waterproof asphalt on the Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy (JJ) flyover in Mumbai has now decided to use same on the Panvel flyover. An official from MSRDC

The official informed that to lay this kind of asphalt, the project cost has increased by 20%. To ensure safe and secure commuting, officials attached to the traffic control unit of the Thane (rural) police have finally rolled up their sleeves to crack the whip on rickety school buses and their operators who ferry students by blatantly ignoring the safety norms.

Senior inspector (traffic) Anil Pawar has issued directives to the managements of educational institutions to ensure their transport system was operating in compliance with mandated guidelines and regulations, including regular fitness checks, updated documentation and background verification of staffers ferrying the students. This apart instructions to be given to school bus drivers and attendants to observe traffic rules like wearing seat belts, avoid speeding and rash driving, safety precautions while boarding and alighting students. "School buses that don't follow safety norms eventually risk the children's lives. To ensure safe commuting for students and to avoid the slightest chance of negligence, the move has been initiated. Violators will not be spared," he warned. Most of the school managements usually do not bother to check if their operator is complying with the transport regulations, unless there are specific complaints regarding quality of service. Last month, the police had penalised an operator after a bus was found plying without glass panes on its rear window. Private mini-vans packed beyond capacity and plying recklessly without permits are also under the scanner of the traffic police.
